DVD Media: If there is any defect with the media we give you, it will of course be replaced at no charge. We produce Region 1/DVD-R's, the official and ONLY approved format by the DVD Forum (dvdforum.com) for DVD Burning in North America. Problem is, virtually no DVD Player built before 2001 will play anything but DVD-VIDEO or "Movie DVDs." DVD-VIDEOS are "stamped out" in a Replication Center using "layered encoding technology" which is basically exclusive to the Entertainment Industry. Since 2002, most players for sale have been DVD-R compatible, but unless your player plainly stated as much on the box, it may not have full (some have limited) DVD-R compatibility. SO, we can not guarantee your DVD player's capability, just that of our DVD's... which are burned with state-of-art encoders, hardware and brand named media.
